

Afternoon Tea at Fairmont Chateau Laurier

On December 2, women from across Ottawa joined Catherine Clark (Honourary Chair) and Shawn O'Rourke (Chair and former QCH staff member) at the Fairmont Château Laurier for afternoon tea to launch the Queensway Carleton Hospital Foundation's new Women In Philanthropy program. The event brought together like-minded women who have one goal: to help transform healthcare for Ottawa and our region. This event marked the inaugural launch of the program and had huge success in gathering inspiring women from across Ottawa who have a passion to invest in healthcare excellence.

Members will pool their donations to create a fund that is awarded annually to one of three QCH short-listed projects that address urgent healthcare challenges within our community at the end of the year.

